Introduction

Pole and Aerial ART Hungary & Pole and Aerial ART World Cup

PAAH & PAW

When Your Soul Comes to Life

When your Spirit comes alive, you become a divine creator for the joy of yourself and others

The spirit and mission of the Pole and Aerial ART Hungary and World Cup

Promoting the expression of the true self, in the language of dance, pole art, aerial art.

Encourage its competitors and performers to dare to dive into the deepest layers of the self-identical creative process, where our true inexhaustible power lies.

We believe that it is then that we can achieve the unearthly success that gives us an everlasting experience, satisfaction, a sense of arrival, opening our hearts to the realisation of our true selves:

- 🕊️ when we can bring out the treasures within us,
- 🕊️ when we can bring out the best in ourselves,
- 🕊️ when we live authentically from our hearts the infinite wonder of the present moment,
- 🕊️ when it's just the dance, the music and us,
- 🕊️ when our performance gives us goosebumps as we experience the timeless magic of presence,
- 🕊️ when in total surrender, our physical body does its job almost perfectly on its own,
- 🕊️ when we can show our best skills by focusing on the present moment,
- 🕊️ when we can offer our hearts, our souls, so that the light of our souls shines in the space.

Our goal is not to battle against each other: to work towards our individual goals, helping each other, lifting each other up.

Our mission with Pole and Aerial ART Hungary & Pole and Aerial ART World Cup events is to support self-expression on pole and aerial art equipment in the freest way possible.

In addition to this, our focus is on celebrating, supporting, encouraging and promoting those who take to the stage, rather than "judging" or ranking talent, while providing space and time for the freest, most liberated expression of self-expression and the most diverse range of creative outlet for talents to flourish.

We also aim to go beyond the framework of competition, to provide a space for all those who wish to bring their art to the public for the joy of creation and self-expression. It is in this spirit that the Free Creative Space genre has been created, in which the performances presented are not judged.

The ExoART (formerly Glamour and Exotic Art) division was also established in 2021 with the aim of creating a new genre, with its distinctive visual style and movement that offers sophisticated artistic expression for the adults.

The competition, PoleArt Hungary, was the first international pole-art competition in Hungary and was held for the first time in spring 2016. Since then, we have been working tirelessly, putting our hearts and souls into our work every day to ensure that in 2026, on the 10th anniversary of our organization, the Pole and Aerial ART World Cup and the qualifying competition preceding it can be held in Hungary for the second time.

The regulations for the Hungary event apply to both the qualifying competition and the World Cup.

Detailed information about the world championship and qualifying opportunities can be found in the section of the regulations entitled "Pole and Aerial ART WORLD CUP Qualification."

Pole and Aerial ART WORLD CUP qualification

Qualified competitors must submit a separate application to participate in the World Cup in November, which must be made in accordance with the official entry requirements for the event.

ART Pass

The World Cup section is open to both domestic and international competitors who did not participate in the spring qualifying event but have placed in the top three (1st-3rd) at other international competitions specifically in ART style over the past 1-2 years. Competitors applying in this manner may apply for direct entry into the World Cup section by providing proof of their results (certificate, link to the official results list).

For competitors approved with an ART Pass, participation in the November World Cup is subject to a separate two-step registration process, which must be submitted in accordance with the preliminary video application and registration deadlines.

! Important notes about deadlines and application !

From spring 2026, participation will be subject to video application, which will allow all applicants to compete in a category appropriate to their level of skill, while also contributing to the professional prestige of the competition.

Applications are open to all levels, from complete beginners to star category competitors. The number of competitors is limited.

- The receipt of the application / participation fee and the submission of the online application form together ensure the participation of the competitor/performer in the event.
- The online application form must include the personal e-mail address and telephone number of the competitor (or, in the case of a competitor/performer under 18 years of age, of his/her guardian). Failing to do so will make the application invalid!
- Late applications after the given deadline are possible only up to the remaining available capacity.
- The application and participation fee are non-refundable.

! Important information about video applications !

We can only accept videos uploaded for application in the form of a Google Drive link, which must be accessible to anyone with the link.

The application video must remain available at the link provided in the application for 14 days after the event.

Criteria for videos submitted with applications:

- can be in one single take or edited (montage) video material, exclusively in the form of moving images (still images cannot be inserted into the video footage)
- it must be at least 1:30 minutes long
- the recording must not be older than 1 year
- the video may be a recording made at a previous competition or performance, or recorded in studio conditions
- we can only accept recordings of a quality that allows evaluation of the contestant's skill level, execution, and artistic presentation

! PLEASE NOTE: The level of skill indicated in the application may be modified based on the application video, which may result in the automatic reclassification of the applicant! !

In the Free Creative Space category, entries are submitted without a video; to enter, you only need to fill out the entry form by the September 20 deadline.

ExoART categories

Male and female categories Amateur, semi-pro, professional and star categories	Ages 18+
---	-----------------

! * If the number of competitors in a given category is less than 6, the organizer is entitled to reclassify the competitors into merged categories, which may result in the merging of age groups and/or aerial art categories. !

Free Creative Space

No age group or skill level classification, free choice of pole or aerial equipment
ExoART: ages 18+

Para Division

There are no physical limits to the unfolding of talent; the para division aims to sensitise and integrate people with disabilities into the world of performing arts and artistic expression, in a spirit of equal opportunities.

The para division is open to individual competitors who have a congenital or acquired disability, or a possible accident, resulting in a greater degree of mobility or sensory impairment, or a minor intellectual disability.

Within the para division, there is no age or other distinction, so it is not to be confused with the classifications used in competitive sports.

! Due to age restrictions, the ExoART category will not be included in the Para Division.

Free Creative Space

For those who can best open themselves and the world through pole and aerial arts within the dance arts, the Free Creative Space offers the perfect opportunity to express themselves.

In both pole and aerial arts, there are very few rules about the choreography to be performed, but the Free Creative Space genre allows for even more freedom of self-expression.

In this division, there is no objective or subjective judging or ranking of the choreography presented, and no expectations regarding the level of skill, execution, or the ratio of use of the equipment.

Performers can showcase their art to the audience without having to compete with anyone else or trying to be better than anyone else, as their own theme/story is not compared to other participants.

In this great genre, the theme/ story of the performer's choreography, free creation, dance, music, free movement and the celebration of genres will be given the main role and the spotlight, in a professional, theatrical setting, with a lifetime of experiences and memories not only in the form of photos and videos, but also on a soul level.

Free Creative Space applicants will be evaluated by the jury in the same way as the contestants, with the same scoring system, so that they can get feedback on the performance and contribute to the future development of the performers. For information on how to request a scorecard, see "Requesting Digital Scorecards".

ExoART division

This year marks the 5th edition of Pole and Aerial ART Hungary and the first time that ExoART, a new stylistic direction, will be presented on the Pole and Aerial ART World Cup stage, which was also created with the aim of creating a new genre.

The ExoART division aims to present the amazing repertoire of movement of the exotic genre by highlighting glamour, mystery and beauty, both through the language of appearance and movement. It gives total freedom to use styles freely, whether mixed or blended, without limits, for the fullest expression. A fusion of pure exo-specific dance technique and artistic expression.

ExoART, whether it is flow, hard, old school, burlesque, showgirl, glamour, new wave, or any combination of these, takes this style of dance to an artistic level, which means that in the choreography, a theme or story unfolds in the emotional experience and representation of the performer's message or a message in which he or she is directly or indirectly emotionally involved.

This new stylistic direction can really come to life on stage, whether the performer is more lyrical, softer, harder or tighter, when the atmosphere of his or her performance can be felt even when looking at the silhouette of the performer; his or her choreography is effective, expressive, narrative-introspective, and thus becomes a performance that evokes emotions in the audience.

We see into the soul of the performer through their expressive movements.

Using any of the exotic trends or a mixture of them, create a choreography that best and most faithfully expresses what you are, what you want to convey to the audience, what you want the audience to feel. You don't need to stick to the rules of style, you will have ExoART choreography!

The high heels, the make-up, the special costume, all help you to reveal and showcase your most sensual, feminine side, whether it's sexy, subtle, wild, passionate, sad, anguished, struggling with inner storms, flirty or silly. It's a celebration of the intertwining of feminine and masculine energy, where the pole as masculine energy provides a stable, emanating force, a space around which the feminine can flow, shine. Live and give to the audience your flowing unique feminine-masculine fusion!

We encourage you to create! Create a choreography where every movement shows you, your theme, your mood, your story, everything you want to show the audience. Pay attention to the small details, be brave, and let the emotion, the thought, the mood be the most important part of your work, along with the pure technique. During your performance, let every inch of you move from your soul! The greatest freedom is the creation where you are yourself!

Categories - difficulty levels

Criteria for classification of categories in pole and aerial art competition disciplines:

Amateur

The amateur category is open to competitors who are less experienced both in practising on a specific equipment (pole or aerial) and in movements independent of the equipment.

All of these aspects should be considered in terms of both the degree of difficulty of the exercises presented during the performance and the accuracy of the execution.

! 180° or greater angle splits, extreme flexibility, dynamic drops, acrobatic connections, sustained power elements such as handstands, floating ayesha, janeiro, iron-x, etc. are not permitted in the amateur category and may result in reclassification of the competitor without further justification.

Semi-pro

The semi-pro category is open to competitors who have sufficient routine both in terms of practising on a specific equipment (pole or aerial) and in terms of moving independently of the equipment.

All of these aspects should be considered in terms of both the degree of difficulty of the exercises presented during the performance and the accuracy of the execution.

The semi-pro category is for competitors who are confident in their technical skills, but may not yet have experience of competing.

Professional

The professional category is open to competitors who have confident, even several years of experience both in training on a specific equipment (pole or aerial) and in moving independently of the equipment.

All of these aspects should be considered in terms of both the degree of difficulty of the exercises presented during the performance and the accuracy of the execution.

Star

The star category is open to competitors whose achievements and skills (stage, performing arts, competitive experience) exceed those of a professional-level competitor, with a minimum of three international podium finishes in the professional, elite or star categories in the last eight years.

Every effort will be made to ensure equal opportunities and fair competition in the running of the event, therefore, the performance of elements/moves of higher or lower difficulty than the required skill level (on or off the chosen equipment) may result in a competitor being reclassified.

! Categories are finalized based on on-site performance: The actual level of difficulty, execution, and overall performance (actual skill level) of the routine presented on the day of the competition take precedence over the preliminary classification received at the time of registration (e.g., based on a video), as well as the competitor's results and ratings from previous competitions. Based on the stage performance, the jury has the authority to reclassify a contestant into a category that corresponds to their actual skill level.

Application criteria

For the participants:

Complete and submit the online application then the participants who qualified for the competition on the entry form via the organisation's website:

<https://poleandaerialart.com/en/application/>

In addition to the information provided on the form, the online application is valid upon uploading the following documents/files and completing the online payment:

1. For competitors/performers under 18 years of age, acceptance of the parental consent form on the application form.
2. The team's application must be submitted on a single entry form containing the details of all team members.
3. Sending your chosen music in MP3 format, along with a written artistic theme of 300-500 characters (for more details, see the section titled "Artistic Theme") to music@poleandaerialart.com by the given deadline.

Music files must be named in the following format:

Category_Equipment_Age group_Individual/Team_Name/Names

! If the music file is uploaded with a different or incomplete name than the above format, the application will not be considered final. !

By submitting the application form, the applicant acknowledges that they have read and accepted the rules in full.

The participant must be present on the day of the Event in a condition to compete/perform by the registration time set by the Organizer.

Application fee

All applicants must pay a fee by the specified application deadline, which can be paid after completing the online application form.

If the application fee is paid by a studio or association, billing information must be provided at the time of payment.

The application fee covers participation in the video preselection round only.

The application fee is a standard 8,900 HUF per competition.

Participation fee

Applicants who have been accepted into the competition must confirm their intention to participate by paying the entry/participation fee within 14 calendar days of receiving notification. This can be done via the organizer's website.

Entries that have not been confirmed by the deadline will be offered to the next competitors in line based on the video ranking as substitute entries.

If the entry fee is paid by a studio or association, billing information is required at the time of payment.

- Individual participants: 33.000 HUF / category / participant
- Team category (2+): 22.000 HUF / participant

Note: the participation fee is non-refundable!

Non-attendance and its sanctions

In case of non-attendance, the application/participation fee is non-refundable.

Attendance at the awards ceremony is mandatory. If for any reason a competitor/performer is unable to attend the announcement of results/award ceremony, they must notify the organizer in advance and appoint a person to collect any prize(s) they may have won.

The prizes and gift packs can be collected within 7 calendar days after the event, either in person in Budapest or via a parcel delivery service, the costs of which are borne by the competitor/performer.

Categories, equipment, stage

Equipment to be used in the competition and in the Free Creative Space:
pole, hoop, silk/tissue or freestyle equipment (eg. aerial pole, lollipop, cube etc.).

In the pole art categories, 3 poles are available on the stage, with a diameter of 4.5 cm and a minimum height of 3.8 m and a maximum height of 4 m.

The distance between the poles is approximately 3 metres (+/- 30 cm), and between the poles and the edge of the stage area (e.g. curtains) at least 2 metres.

The competitors/performers can use all three poles in either fixed or rotating positions during their performance. The desired setting must be indicated to the backstage coordinator on site immediately before taking the stage.

No mandatory rate of utilisation of the poles or their total height for competitors/performers. Competitors/performers may use one, two or all three poles. No extra points or deductions will be awarded for the use or non-use of the poles.

The aerial art competitors/performers use their own equipment to demonstrate their routine. The competitor takes full responsibility for any damage caused to the equipment or to their own or the participants' physical integrity that may result from the use of the equipment they bring.

The organizer is not responsible for the equipment brought by the competitors, their professional suspension or their movement.

The aerial equipment are suspended by motor at any height up to 6 metres. Approximately at the centre of the stage, one motorised suspension point is connected. Any other request (possibly more than one suspension point) must be notified by e-mail before the deadline for applications.

If participants have difficulty transporting their own equipment, they may request assistance from the organizers, who will endeavor to help find a solution depending on their capacity and possibilities.

Stage rehearsals

Prior to the competition, participants will have the opportunity to walk around the stage, test the poles in the pole art events, measure the distances between them, and locate and view the suspension points in the aerial art events.

! The rehearsal time is for testing the specific equipment/suspension or stage space, not for rehearsing the performance to be presented !

The organizer will endeavour to provide the opportunity for all technical rehearsals to support the safe preparation of the competitors/performers on site, prior to taking the stage.

Information about this will be sent to participants by e-mail before the event.

Attendance at rehearsals is not mandatory and there are no sanctions for absence.

Artistic Theme

When applying, competitors/performers are required to submit a 300 - 500 character description of their artistic theme, which will be presented to the audience by the announcer before taking the stage.

The artistic theme is the performer's narrative, story, or message in which he or she is directly or indirectly emotionally involved. It must reflect the performer's contemporary world, and form a close unity with it.

Any current affairs, whether political, world affairs or religious, can be included, as long as they are not offensive, mocking, degrading, humiliating or ridiculing.

The performer should provide a description of the theme, its introduction, choreography, any manifestations, and the music of their choice:

- must not be offensive to national beliefs,
- cannot be racist,
- cannot incite violence,
- must not promote the use of prohibited substances,
- cannot defame anyone or any idea,
- must not be hateful,
- must not offend any religion or denomination,
- must not criticise or be mocking,
- must not be demeaning or offensive to anyone or any belief.

Furthermore, the theme description must not contain any personal introduction (e.g. name, age) or reference to which association/studio you are representing on stage.

If the submitted artistic theme does not meet the above content requirements or exceeds the specified maximum number of characters, the organizer reserves the right to modify the description to bring it into compliance.

! In the event of a breach of these rules, the performer may be excluded even during the performance.

In the event of improper use of props, the jury may stop or, where appropriate, immediately disqualify the participant.

The name(s) of human prop(s) must be sent by e-mail to the Organizer no later than the application deadline.
Human props must not touch the equipment used by the competitor.

If the competitor/performer is unsure about the usability of their equipment, they must contact the Organizer by e-mail no later than the application deadline.

! The competitor and/or their assistants will have a maximum of 2 minutes to remove the props used on stage after the end of the performance.. !

Participants may use any grip aids on their own bodies that do not leave a permanent mark or residue on the equipment provided by the organizer or on the stage surface.

Magnesia/grip aids may be applied to the poles only in the case of hyperhydration certified by a doctor. The certificate must be submitted by the participant at the latest at the time of on-site registration. In this case, the competitor and/or their assistants will have a maximum of 2 minutes after the end of the performance to remove any magnesia that may be applied.

Any grip aids on the participants own (aerial) equipment may only be used at the participant's own risk.

Obligations of the participant

Behave with courtesy and decency throughout the event and afterwards.

This obligation also applies to any posts or statements made on social media about the event or any of its participants.

Any ethically objectionable behaviour may result in the subsequent disqualification or, where appropriate, the loss of the title of the competitor/performer, depending on the degree of the infringement.

A participant will be excluded from the event with immediate effect if:

- ➡ the information submitted by the applicant is not truthful,
 - ➡ their clothing is intentionally or unintentionally dislodged during the exercise, thereby exposing intimate body parts, and, in addition to immediate disqualification, the applicant may no longer participate in the event or repeat the routine,
 - ➡ behaving in an unfair or unethical way towards the organizers, jury members or other participants,
 - ➡ being under the influence of alcohol, drugs or other narcotic, intoxicating or mind-altering substances,

- the participant's physical safety or health is endangered or they endanger others,
- using an inappropriate prop,
- unfair, unethical behaviour (online or offline) towards any participant in the event,
- the performer, by their theme, its descriptive description, choreography, any manifestation, as well as the music they choose, violates the principles known to the artistic theme,
- not following the rules.
- In the event of a clear copying of a previously presented choreography or idea during a performance, the organizer will take decisive action to protect creative liberty and original works. In such cases, not only may the participant be disqualified, but they may also be banned from future events.

Scoring system

For Pole and Aerial ART and ExoART competitions

The primary aim of the Pole and Aerial ART Hungary event is to promote artistic expression on pole and aerial equipment in the freest possible way.

The aim is not primarily to "grade" or rank the talent of those who take the stage, but to celebrate, support, encourage, promote and provide space and time for the freest, most liberated expression of talent and the widest range of creative expression.

Based on the above mission, reclassification/merging of categories may be necessary in order to create a competitive situation and to allow the announcement of placings within the (merged) category.

Reclassification shall take place on site, based on the jury's decision, if justified in order to ensure equal opportunities and fair competition conditions.

As stated above, in the Pole and Aerial ART Hungary & World Cup qualification event, no winner will be declared in a given category with one single entry.

Rules and guidelines of the scoring system

- When the running order is sent out, participants will be informed of any preliminary reclassifications. If a competitor does not wish to compete in the merged or reclassified category, they have the option of presenting their routine outside of the competition in the Free Creative Space genre. Competitors may express their disapproval of the preliminary classification or merge received when the running order is announced, which must be done within 72 hours of being published, by sending an email to info@poleandaerialart.com.
If the reclassification is made on site, based on the jury's decision, the competitor may not raise any objections in this regard, as the jury's decision is final.
- The scoring system for the Para division is the same as for the individual Pole and Aerial ART divisions.
- The age of the competitor on the first day of the competition will be taken into account for age classification.
- In the case of mixed age groups, teams must enter the age category of the oldest member.
- The team's application must be submitted on a single entry form containing the details of all team members.
- The team must choose a team name - it is important that this does not match the name of any team member; only unique, fantasy names are permitted.
- Scores are calculated on the basis of the average of the Jury's scores.
- Competitors will be ranked according to the total score they have achieved.
The competitor with the highest score will be the first place winner.
- The total score achieved:
 - 150 points in individual categories
 - 160 points in the group categories.

- In the case of competitors with the same score, the one with the higher artistic score will finish higher in the ranking.
In case of equal artistic and technical scores, the final order will be decided by the jury.
- In the case of special awards, the contestant with the highest artistic score will be awarded the "Performing Arts Special Award", and the contestant with the highest technical score will be awarded the "Technical Special Award", both in pole and aerial.
- The Jury's decision cannot be appealed.
- Competitors are not allowed to contact members of the Jury during the competition.

Artistic Scores

1	The message and originality of artistic theme	10 points
2	Display and recognizability of the artistic theme during the performance	10 points
3	Unique, creative presentation of combinations, movements and elements	10 points
4	Expressiveness of the movements and elements presented	10 points
5	Display of emotions, characters, moods, facial expressions	10 points
6	Musical interpretation in relation to the artistic theme	10 points
7	Musicality	10 points
8	Costume, make-up, hair, and props to harmonise with the theme/choreography	10 points
9	Stage presence, suggestive performance, confidence	10 points
10	"WOW" factor	10 points
Total:		100 points

A guide to understand the Artistic Scoring criteria

1. The message and originality of artistic theme
It assesses the uniqueness and attention-grabbing nature of the topic or message the competitor wishes to present: an unusual choice of theme, a potentially startling and or unique content/message.
2. Display and recognizability of the artistic theme during the performance
On the basis of this scoring aspect, the jury will assess the extent to which the performance reflects the artistic theme.
3. Unique, creative presentation of combinations, movements and elements
It appreciates the uniqueness, unconventionality, individuality and uniqueness of the movements and sequences of movements presented in the choreography.
4. Expressiveness of the movements and elements presented
The harmony of the elements and movement sequences presented in the competitor's performance in relation to the artistic theme is assessed.
5. Display of emotions, characters, moods, facial expressions
The contestant's emotional expression is judged on how well it matches the message of the artistic theme and how well they can convey this through their facial expressions and movements during the performance.

6. Musical interpretation in relation to the artistic theme

This scoring section assesses how well the choreography presented by the competitor is in harmony with the music, the lyrics, the message and the mood of the artistic theme.

7. Musicality

This scoring aspect evaluates how well the movements presented by the contestant are in harmony with the melody and beat of the music, and how well the choreography follows the dynamics, rhythm changes and musical exposition of the music; overall, how well the unity of the dance and the music is created.

8. Costume, make-up, hair, and props to harmonise with the theme/choreography

In this scoring aspect, the jury will assess the extent to which the make-up, hairstyle, costume and any props used help the competitor to bring the artistic theme and character to life visually, and the overall stage appearance and overall image of the performance, reflecting the artistic theme.

9. Stage presence, suggestive performance, confidence

This scoring criteria assesses how well the competitor is able to convey their artistic theme and character to the audience, and how confident and charismatic they are on stage.

10. "WOW" factor

This scoring criteria assesses the ability of the competitor to make an impact on the audience, to evoke an emotional response, to make the performance memorable and unique.

Technical Scores

1	Clear, precise execution of the elements and movements presented, refined lines	10 points
2	Variety and difficulty of the elements of the routine (according to the level of competition)	10 points
3	Flexibility	10 points
4	Strength, dynamics, stamina	10 points
5	Flow of movements, smooth connections	10 points
Total:		50 points

A guide to understand the Technical Scoring criteria

1. Clear, precise execution of the elements and movements presented, refined lines

It assesses the competitor's exacting, precise, effortless and accurate execution of all movements performed during the choreography, e.g. knee and foot extension ("pointe"), light, graceful posture.

2. Variety and difficulty of the elements of the routine (according to the level of competition)

It assesses the expected variety and difficulty of the elements/movements presented in a given category according to the level of knowledge of the classification.

3. Flexibility

It assesses the versatility and degree of flexibility of each element and movement presented in the choreography.

4. Strength, dynamics, stamina

It evaluates the controlled execution of all static or dynamic elements or movements presented during the choreography, the degree of effort, the presence of endurance.

5. Flow of movements, smooth connections

To move smoothly and harmoniously from one movement to another, without interrupting the continuity of the sequence of exercises, except when the interrupted, broken movement is explicitly part of the choreography.

The performance of elements/movements with a higher degree of difficulty than the relevant skill level (on or off the chosen equipment) may result in the competitor being reclassified.

! 180° or greater angle splits, extreme flexibility, dynamic drops, acrobatic connections, sustained power elements such as handstands, floating ayesha, janeiro, iron-x, etc. are not permitted in the amateur category and may result in reclassification of the competitor without further justification.

The special, unique and artistic character of the choreography presented is assessed by this aspect.

2. Originality, choice of theme, uniqueness of theme

It assesses the originality and uniqueness of the artistic theme, its innovative and unconventional approach and presentation.

3. Harmony between choreography and theme

This criteria evaluates how well the choreography really reflects the theme, how specific it is, whether the movements really reflect the theme, whether the choreography really conveys the emotions that are intended to be performed.

4. Harmony between pole work and dance

In this section, the jury assesses the balance between the performer's pole technique and dance technique, and whether one aspect and the other are present in balanced proportions throughout the performance.

5. Floorwork

All dance elements, acrobatic elements, postures, their connection and execution on the floor.

6. Musicality

This scoring aspect evaluates how well the movements presented by the contestant are in harmony with the melody and beat of the music, and how well the choreography follows the dynamics, rhythm changes and musical exposition of the music; overall, how well the unity of the dance and the music is created.

7. Appearance, costume

Clothing, shoes, hairstyle, make-up and any accessories must be in harmony with the theme and choreography.

8. Presentation

It assesses the level of the contestant's performance ability, how well he or she can portray the desired character, mood and emotions.

9. Stage presence

The performers are appreciated for their suggestive style of presentation, their charisma, the way they fill the room with their presence.

10. Overall effect

The effectiveness of the choreography presented, the performance style, the theme and all the elements presented for the whole performance.

ExoART Technical Scores

1	Pole tricks, transitions	10 points
2	Clear, precise execution	10 points
3	Flexibility	10 points
4	Specific dance technique	10 points
5	Dynamics, stamina, endurance	10 points
Total:		50 points

A guide to understand the ExoART Technical Scoring Scoring criteria

1. Pole tricks, transitions

This scoring criteria assesses the difficulty, variety and smoothness of the pole tricks.

2. Clear, precise execution

In this section, the jury will assess the precise execution of pole tricks, transitions, dance and floor elements.

3. Flexibility

It assesses the versatility and degree of flexibility of all the elements and movements presented in the choreography, with particular attention to the foot and spike hold in relation to the use of shoes.

4. Specific dance technique

The exotic dance style evaluates all specific aspects relevant to it, including the proper use of shoes (platform, edges, heels), foot position, knee and ankle alignment, body waves, and head position.

5. Dynamics, stamina, endurance

This scoring criteria assesses the dynamics of the performer's choreography and how stable and consistent it is throughout the performance.

Team Scores

1	Cooperation, synergy and harmony between team members	5 points
2	Integrating differences between team members during the performance	5 points

A guide to understand the Team Scoring criteria

1. Cooperation, synergy and harmony between team members
It assesses the coordinated spatial movement of the team members, their cooperation in the elements, connections and other movements.
2. Integrating differences between team members during the performance
In team productions, it is not necessary to present synchronized elements; the symbiosis that emerges during the performance is the guiding principle in this respect. The creative nature of the choreography is judged in this scoring section according to the extent to which any differences between team members are integrated to create a symbiosis.

Deductions, sanctions

Based on the judgment of the jury and the organizer, points may be deducted in the following cases and to the following extent:

Providing false information on the application form (e.g., name, date of birth, previous competition results, teaching activities in the amateur category, etc.).	Disqualification
Music or artistic theme submitted after the deadline	-1 / day (max. -5 points)
The supporting actor(s) assist the competitor in their exercise on the apparatus, touching the apparatus.	-1 point per occasion (max. -5 points, disqualification in cases exceeding this)
The costume or any props used do not comply with the rules (e.g., use of powders, liquids, or any object that endangers the physical integrity of the competitor or the equipment; the costume intentionally or unintentionally reveals intimate body parts).	Between -1 and -5 points or disqualification, depending on the severity of the violation
If a competitor is recorded by a relative or acquaintance using a device capable of making professional images or video recordings	-5 or disqualification, depending on the severity of the violation

Score deductions and other penalties will be indicated on the score sheet and may be applied at the discretion of the organizer and/or the jury in cases not covered by these rules.
